If you are no longer eligible for TCA (Cash Assistance)

However, if your case is already denied or closed because you missed your interview, you must reapply.

For applications, if you completed the interview (if required) by the 30th day after the application date, you do not need to submit a new application if you provide the verification documents required within 60 days from the day you originally turned in your application. If you do not provide all the verification required within 60 days from the day you originally turned in your application, you will have to complete a new application.

For reviews, if you completed the interview (if required) by the end of the eligibility period, your household has until the 30th day after the end of the eligibility period to return the verification.

If you are no longer eligible for Medicaid

You are receiving this notice because the State of Florida Department of Children and Families reviewed your eligibility for Medicaid. You have been found to be ineligible for Medicaid, or the Department has been unable to determine your eligibility.

If the reason you were found ineligible is because the Department needed information from you, you can still complete your review. You have 90 days from the date your Medicaid ends to complete your review or return all the required information. After reviewing the information, we may be able to determine that you are eligible, and you will not have to file a new application.

An interview is required if you requested Medicaid and a disability decision is still needed. If this applies to you, you should have received a notice stating that. If you completed the interview by the end of the eligibility period, your household has until the 30th day after the end of the eligibility period to return the verifications. However, if your case is already denied or closed because you missed your interview, you must reapply.

For Food Assistance benefits, you must report during your certification period when your household's monthly gross income is more than your income limit of $2,495.00. If you are an ABAWD, you must report if your work hours drop below 80 hours/month. You must report this change within 10 days after the end of the month.

If you fail to report changes as required, or if the information you provide is not correct, you may have to repay any benefits you receive for which you were not eligible and you may be prosecuted for fraud. You must report other changes and your household's situation at the time of the next recertification. If you have access to a computer, you may report your changes online at the ACCESS Florida website www.myflorida.com/accessflorida. You may also report changes by calling the ACCESS Florida Customer Call Center toll free at 1-850-300-4323 or by mail to the return address at the top of this notice.

Once you have validated your account you will be able to see the status of your benefits, view notices, renew benefits, request additional benefits, report changes, and upload documents.

Food Assistance Work Rules

The Food Assistance Program has different work rules that must be followed to receive food assistance benefits. There are general work rules, Employment and Training (E&T) work rules, and Able-Bodied Adults Without Dependents (ABAWD) work rules. Different people in your house may need to follow different work rules and may need to follow more than one work rule. If you don't follow these rules, your food assistance benefits may decrease or end.

General Work Rules

You must follow these general work rules to keep your food assistance benefits:

- Accept any job offer you receive, unless there is a good reason you cannot.
- If you have a job, don't quit your job or choose to work less than 30 hours each week without having a good reason, such as getting sick, being discriminated against, or not getting paid.
- Tell us about your job and how much you are working, or your availability to work.
- Participate in E&T work activities if assigned by us.

Individuals may not have to follow these general work rules if one of the following conditions (exemptions) apply:

- Younger than 16 or older than 59,
- Age 16 or 17 who is in school full time; not the head of the household; or enrolled in employment training at least half time,
- Taking care of a child younger than 6 or someone who needs help caring for themselves,
- Already working at least 30 hours a week or earning $217.50 or more a week,
- Receiving or applied for unemployment benefits,
- Not working because of a physical or mental health reason,
- Going to school, college, or training program at least half time,
- Meeting the work rules for the Temporary Cash Assistance (TCA) program, or
- Participating in a drug or alcohol addiction program (Alcoholics or Narcotics Anonymous do not qualify),

Individuals in your home may have a good reason for not following the general work rules. Good reasons include issues you cannot control, such as getting sick or working in conditions that are unreasonable. These are some examples, but not all of them. If you think you have an exemption or have a good reason, you need to let us know immediately by logging into your MyACCESS account at www.myflorida.com/accessflorida and select "Report A Change" or calling 850-300-4323. If we agree that you meet an exemption or have a good reason, there will be no change in your benefits.

Employment and Training (E&T) Work Rules

The E&T program is operated by local workforce development areas known as CareerSource Florida and can help you gain skills and find work. Individuals assigned to E&T may be required to participate in supervised job search, job search training, basic education, vocational training, work experience, and employment retention services

You will receive a notice in the mail with information about how to participate. You must follow these E&T work rules to keep your food assistance benefits:

- Complete the orientation and assessment and schedule an appointment with your case manager.
- Go to the appointment; if you cannot make it, you must contact your case manager.
- Work with your case manager to determine the right program for you.
- Complete the activities of the program each month.

If the assigned program is not a good fit for you, you must contact your case manager.

Individuals may not have to follow E&T work rules if you meet a general work rule exemption (listed above) or if one of the following conditions apply:

- Temporarily laid off from work,
- Live more than 35 miles from a job search and training center,
- Are a domestic violence survivor,
- Pregnant,
- No childcare available for a child age 6 through 11-years old, or
- ABAWD meeting the 80 hours each month on their own.

If you have costs from participating in the E&T program, such as transportation, childcare, equipment, or other required items (tools, books, uniforms), we must pay for these costs to participate in the program. If we cannot pay for these costs, you will not be required to participate in E&T work activities.

Individuals in your home may have a good reason for not following the E&T work rules. Good reasons include issues you cannot control, such as getting sick or working in conditions that are unreasonable. These are some examples, but not all of them. If you think you have an exemption or have a good reason, you need to let us know immediately by logging into your MyACCESS account at www.myflorida.com/accessflorida and select "Report A Change" or calling 850-300-4323. If we agree that you meet an exemption or have a good reason, there will be no change in your benefits.

Able-Bodied Adults Without Dependents (ABAWD) Work Rules

An ABAWD is a person who is age 18 through 49, does not live with a child under 18, and are physically and mentally able to work. If you do not follow the ABAWD work rules, you can only get food assistance benefits for 3 months in a 3-year period. Three-year periods run from January through December, e.g., January 2022 through December 2024.

To keep your benefits, you must spend at least 80 hours each month doing one or more of the following:

- Working (including "in-kind" work and volunteer work),
- Participating in a job program or similar activity we approved, or
- Combination of working and participating in a work program.

If you do not follow these rules without a good reason, you may lose your food assistance benefits. If you are doing one of these things, let us know by logging into your MyACCESS account at www.myflorida.com/accessflorida and select "Report A Change" or calling 850-300-4323. You must report if your work hours drop below 80 hours/month within 10 days after the end of the month.

Individuals may not have to follow ABAWD work rules if you meet a general work rule exemption (listed above) or if one of the following conditions apply:

- Younger than age 18 or older than age 49,
- Someone in your house is younger than age 18,
- Unable to work because of a physical or mental health reason, or
- Pregnant.

Individuals in your home may have a good reason for not following the ABAWD work rules. Good reasons include issues you cannot control, such as getting sick or household emergency. These are some examples, but not all of them. If you think you have an exemption or have a good reason, you need to let us know immediately by logging into your MyACCESS account at www.myflorida.com/accessflorida and select "Report A Change" or calling 850-300-4323. If we agree that you meet an exemption or have a good reason, there will be no change in your benefits.

We will count each full month that you receive benefits but do not meet the ABAWD work rules without a good reason. Once we have counted 3 full months, you will lose your benefits until January 2025. If you lose benefits and start meeting the ABAWD work rules, you may get food assistance benefits again. You can also get benefits again if something changes in your life and you meet an exemption. For example, you now have a child under 18 in the house.

Penalties for Work Rules

If the head of the household fails to follow the general or E&T work rules there may be penalties assigned to the entire household:

- The first time you do not follow these rules and don't have a good reason, you cannot get benefits for 1 month.
- The second time you do not follow these rules, you cannot get benefits for 3 months.
- The third time, and any additional, you cannot get benefits for 6 months.
- You must first follow these work rules before you can get food assistance benefits again. Other household members may apply after the penalty period if the head of household is still not following the work rules.
- If the individual is not the head of the household and fails to follow the work rules, only that individual will be removed from the benefits for the time periods listed above.

However, their services to locate an absent parent, establish paternity, or get child support or medical support are available to you free of charge. If you do not cooperate, it will not affect your children's Medicaid.

Children eligible for the Medicaid may enroll in the Child Health Check-up Program. This program provides regularly scheduled health checkups, dental screenings, immunizations and other medical services for children.
