SNAP Food Benefits

EDG number: 6519810

Who gets SNAP Food Benefits

| Name | Date | Monthly Amount |
|--------------|-------------------------|----------------|
| Joshua Grady | 05/01/2023 - 07/31/2023 | $ 281.00 |
| Joshua Grady | 04/18/2023 - 04/30/2023 | $ 121.00 |

Notes:

Your SNAP benefits will be available by the 18th of each month. (If this is your first time getting benefits, you may get them early for the first few months.)

Able bodied adults aged 18-49 without dependents are limited to three months of benefits in any 36 month period unless the person is working or volunteering an average of 20 hours per week or is otherwise exempt.

Joshua Grady, must follow these SNAP work rules listed in this notice:

1. Basic Work Rules
2. SNAP Employment and Training Program Rules
3. Time Limit Rules

You have moved to a county which requires you to comply with Employment and Training work requirements.

SNAP Work Rules

You must follow these rules to receive SNAP benefits.

This notice is about the work rules for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). If you don't follow these rules, your SNAP benefits may decrease or end.

Different people in your house may need to follow different work rules. This notice tells each of you what you need to do.

Does everyone need to follow these work rules?

No, only certain people do. You may not have to follow these rules if you are one or more of the following:

- Younger than 16 years old or older than 59.
- Taking care of a child 5 years old or younger or someone who needs help caring for themselves.
- Already working at least 30 hours a week or earning at least $217.50 per week.
- Receiving unemployment benefits or your application for unemployment benefits is pending.
- Not working because of a physical or mental health reason.
- Going to school, college or a training program at least half time.
- Meeting the work rules for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF).
- Participating in a drug or alcohol addiction treatment program.

What should you do if you think one of these reasons applies to you or if you need to contact us about SNAP work rules?

If you think you have a good reason for not following any of these rules, or if you fit into any of the examples in the list above, you can let Texas Workforce Commission (TWC) Employment and Training (E&T) Program staff or the Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) know. See the contact information at the end of this notice.

Basic Work Rules and SNAP Employment and Training (E&T) Program Rules

1. Basic Work Rules

Joshua Grady, you must follow the Basic Work Rules to keep your SNAP benefits:

- Accept any job offer you receive, unless you have a good reason.
- If you have a job, don't quit your job or choose to work less than 30 hours each week without having a good reason, such as getting sick, being discriminated against or not getting paid.
- If we ask, tell us about your job and how much you're working.
- If we ask you to do a work program, complete your hours each month.

You may lose your SNAP benefits if you don't follow these work rules and you don't have a good reason. Call us as soon as possible if you think you have good reason for not following the Basic Work Rules.

Good reasons include issues you can't control, such as getting sick, not having childcare for a child 11 or younger, or work conditions that are unreasonable. These are some examples of good reasons but not all of them. Check the beginning of this notice for other reasons you may not have to follow any work rules.

If we find that you have a good reason, there will be no change to your SNAP benefits. See the contact information at the end of this notice.

2. SNAP E&T Program Rules

Joshua Grady, you must follow SNAP E&T Program Rules.

You must participate in the SNAP E&T Program. The E&T Program can make it easier for you to find or keep a job. You must follow these rules to keep your SNAP benefits:

- Go to a program orientation when you receive a notice from the TWC Workforce Solutions Office. If you cannot make it to the orientation at the time scheduled, you must contact E&T Program staff listed on your notice to reschedule.
- Work with your E&T Program case manager to determine the right activity for you.
- Complete the activities of the program each month. (E&T Program staff will tell you what to do.)

During the program orientation, you'll receive more information about how to participate in the E&T Program. It's very important that those who must participate follow all the steps explained in the notice.

If you do not receive an orientation notice, contact your local TWC Workforce Solutions Office. See the contact information at the end of this notice.

Does everyone need to follow these E&T Rules?

No, only certain people do. You may not have to follow these rules if you are one or more of the following:

- Temporarily laid off from your work.
- Living more than 35 miles from a TWC Workforce Solutions Office.
- A domestic violence survivor.

Check the beginning of this notice for other reasons you may not have to follow any work rules.

What if you have costs from doing the program?

Support services are available to participate in the E&T Program. These support services include but are not limited to:

- Transportation
- Child care
- Personal safety items or equipment
- Other reasonable required costs, such as tools, books or uniforms

If support services cannot be provided by the local TWC Workforce Solutions Office, you will not need to follow the E&T Program Rules. If you think you have support service needs that we should pay, tell E&T Program staff as soon as possible. See the contact information at the end of this notice.

What If You Don't Follow the Basic Work Rules or SNAP E&T Program Rules?

If you don't follow these rules without a good reason, you may lose your SNAP benefits. If you think you have a good reason or the program is not a good fit for you, tell the E&T Program staff who are helping you.

Good reasons for not following the Basic Work Rules or SNAP E&T Rules include issues you can't control, such as:

- Getting sick.
- Not having child care for a child 11 or younger.
- Working in conditions that are unreasonable.
- Not having a way to get to the program.

Other reasons may apply to you, like the ones listed at the beginning of this notice. Contact us using the information at the end of this notice if one of these reasons applies to you. If we find that you have a good reason or that the program is not a good fit, you'll be notified and may not need to follow the SNAP E&T Program Rules. There will be no change to your SNAP benefits.

How long will you lose SNAP benefits if you don't follow these work rules?

If you don't follow the Basic Work Rules or SNAP E&T Program Rules, you may lose SNAP benefits for the amount of time listed here:

- The first time you do not follow these rules and don't have a good reason, you can't get SNAP for one month.
- The second time you do not follow these rules, you can't get SNAP for three months.
- The third time, you can't get SNAP for six months.

You must meet the work rules before you can get SNAP benefits again.

More information about the SNAP E&T program:

TWC operates the SNAP E&T Program through local TWC Workforce Solutions Offices. They offer different activities to help develop work skills and help you find and keep a good job.

You can learn more about the SNAP E&T Program by visiting the TWC website at twc.texas.gov. Search for SNAP and click on Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Employment & Training.

Rules for Able-Bodied Adults Without Dependents (ABAWDs)

3. Time Limit Rules

Joshua Grady, must follow the Time Limit Rules. These rules apply to you because you're between 18 and 49, do not live with a child under 18 years old, and you're considered physically and mentally able to work. This is often called the Able-Bodied Adult Without Dependents (ABAWD) work requirement.

You can only get SNAP benefits for three months in three years unless you meet these Time Limit Rules.

You must follow these rules to keep your SNAP benefits:

- Spend at least 80 hours each month doing one or more of the following activities:
 - Working
 - Participating in the E&T Program or similar activities we approved
 - Volunteering

OR

- Participate in state workfare through the E&T Program for the hours we assigned to you each month.

If you are doing one of these things, call and let us know. If your work hours drop below 80 hours a month, you must call and let HHSC know within 10 days. Use the contact information at the end of this notice.

Does everyone need to follow these Time Limit Rules?

You may not have to follow any of the Time Limit Rules if you fit one or more of the following:

- You're 17 years old or younger or 50 or older.
- Someone in your household is 17 or younger.
- You're not working because of a physical or mental health reason.
- You're pregnant.

Check the beginning of this notice for other reasons that may apply to you.

Call as soon as possible if you meet the work requirement or if you think one of these reasons applies to you. If we find one of the reasons does apply to you, you will not need to follow the Time Limit Rules.

What happens if you do not follow these Time Limit Rules?

We will count each full month that you receive SNAP benefits but do not meet the Time Limit Rules without a good reason. Once we have counted three full months, starting with the first full month on SNAP benefits, you will lose SNAP for three years. Contact HHSC to get the dates of your three-year period.

What if there is good reason for not following the Time Limit Rules?

Call us as soon as possible if you think you have good reason for not following the Time Limit Rules. Good reasons for not following these rules include, but are not limited to, issues you can't control, such as getting sick or not having transportation. Check the beginning of this notice for other reasons you may not have to follow any work rules.

If we determine that you have a good reason, there will be no change to your SNAP benefits. Tell the E&T Program staff helping you if you think you have a good reason. See the contact information at the end of this notice.

If you lose your SNAP benefits, can you get them back?

If you start meeting the Time Limit Rules, you can get SNAP benefits again.

You can also get SNAP benefits again if something changes in your life and there are reasons you no longer need to follow these rules. For example, you may get SNAP benefits back if you have a new physical or mental health reason for not working; you become pregnant; you begin working or have worked since you last got SNAP; or because of other reasons already discussed in this notice.

Your right to appeal:

If you think any action on your case is wrong, you can ask for a hearing to appeal. A hearing is a chance for you to tell a hearing officer the reasons you think the action is wrong. The hearing officer will decide if the right action was taken.

If you want a hearing, you must ask for it within 90 days of the date of this letter or the start date of the action, whichever comes later. If you are given a hearing, you can speak for yourself, or you can have a family member, friend, or lawyer speak for you (see below for free legal services). If you need an interpreter for your hearing, we can get you one at no cost.

Benefits during appeal:

You can get benefits while you wait for a hearing if: (1) you ask for a hearing within 13 days of the date of this letter, and (2) you are getting benefits when you ask for a hearing. If you lose the appeal, you might have to pay back benefits you got while waiting for the hearing.

How to appeal:

The fastest way to ask for a hearing to appeal is by calling 2-1-1 (or 1-877-541-7905). After you pick a language, press 2. If you have a hearing or speech disability, call 7-1-1 or any relay service. All numbers are free to call.

If you aren't able to call 2-1-1, you can ask for a hearing by either sending us a letter or going to an HHSC benefits office near you. If you send us a letter, you will need to include your: (1) full name, (2) case number, (3) address, and (4) phone number, if you have one. Mail the letter to: Texas Health and Human Services Commission, PO Box 149027, Austin, Texas 78714-9027.

☐ 6. SNAP Combined Application Project (SNAP-CAP) households must report changes in address.

When you report a change, you might need to give us proof of the change. To give us proof, you can: (1) upload your files showing proof on www.YourTexasBenefits.com, or (2) give us copies of items showing proof when you give us this form.

Another person can report changes for you. You can ask for a receipt for your change report.

Your advisor can explain what type of proof of the change is required.

Reporting these changes is a way to make sure your household receives all the benefits it is entitled to. If you withhold any information or give false information about changes you are required to report, you will owe us the value of any extra benefits you received as a result, and you may also lose some deductions. You also may be barred from receiving SNAP food benefits for one year to permanently, and be fined $250,000, imprisoned for 20 years, or both. A member of your household will never be able to get SNAP food benefits again if they are found guilty in a court of law of:

- buying or selling firearms, ammunition, or explosives in exchange for SNAP food benefits, or
- illegally buying, selling, trading, or redeeming $500 or more in SNAP food benefits.
